Most children who are being abused or neglected don't tell anyone about what is happening to them. There are some possible signs that we should all look out for.

These can include:

- A child who is often bruised or injured
- A child who is often dirty, left alone, hungry or inadequately clothed
- A baby crying constantly
- A child who is constantly 'put down', insulted, sworn at or humiliated
- A child who displays sexually inappropriate behaviour
- A child who lives in a home where there is domestic abuse

- Everyone in the community has a responsibility to protect children from harm
- If you are worried that a child is being abused or neglected then speak to someone who can help and advise you.
- Use the numbers on the back of this card to report your concerns
